

Notes on Participation

The event will be held using YouTube.

Please prepare a network environment such as a PC or a smart phone.

If you want to view the event from a mobile device, you will need to download an app.

- You will receive the URL by the day before the event, and you will be able to view it by logging in from the URL on the day and time of the event.

About Online Viewing

- On the day of the event, you can connect from 5 minutes before the start time.

- It may be filmed by a camera for live streaming.

- If you do not register in advance, you will not be able to attend.

- Please note that only one person can participate per user registration.

- The following terms and conditions apply.

Regarding the taking of photos and videos on the day of the event

- Photos and videos will be taken for the purpose of disseminating information after the event. We may also be interviewed by the media. We will take photos and videos to disseminate information after the event.

Regarding Privacy and personal information

Please note that the personal information handled in this event will be shared with the organizer and co-organizer. The personal information you enter will not be provided to outside parties. Click here for our Privacy Policy

Please read the following terms of use, disclaimer, and others, and proceed to the application if you agree to them.

Terms of Use

- You may not copy, publicly transmit, transmit, transfer, distribute, lend, etc., modify, adapt, etc., any video, image, material, or sound from this service (except for downloadable material, including still image capture.) is not permitted (unless specifically permitted by the video distribution platform that distributes the video). The copyright and moral rights to the video, images, materials, sound, etc. distributed by the video service belong to the speaker, the Osaka Bureau of Economy Business Development Agency, Trade and Industry (hereinafter referred to as “the Foundation”), and other related parties.

- Copying, distributing, or otherwise using all or part of the information in this video distribution without the permission of the speaker, the Foundation, or other copyright holders or authors is an infringement of copyrights and moral rights, and may result in criminal liability. Unauthorized use or reprinting of the video for distribution is also an infringement of the portrait rights of the speaker.

- Please make sure that your device and internet connection are compatible with the viewing environment. Please note that the Foundation will not be able to respond to technical inquiries regarding viewing.

Disclaimer

- The Foundation assumes no responsibility for any problems or damages resulting from interruptions or stoppages of the video due to the condition of the Internet connection, video distribution platform, or the environment of the viewer's device.

- Since data transmission is required for video playback and viewing, communication costs will be incurred by the participants. The Foundation will not be responsible for any data communication costs incurred.

- The Foundation makes no guarantee of the veracity of content, business activities, management conditions, distribution or attached materials, products, technologies, services, or business negotiations, transactions, or contracts with the speakers or businesses. The Foundation is not responsible for any problems or damages arising from these services.

Other

•The Osaka District Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction as the court of first instance over any and all disputes related to participation in this video seminar, “<Terms of Use> Notes on Participation,” and “【Disclaimer】”.